Social Recognition Matters

Sociables™ from Engage2Excel will empower your employees to turn a recognition moment into an unforgettable social event across the entire organization!

What are Sociables? Envision a program that turns recognition into a social celebration across the organization. For employees observing an onboarding milestone, service anniversary, retirement or even a birthday, we help you create a one of a kind experience with our Sociables: eCards, uploaded digital pictures, or even a video message - to the recipient's personal recognition wall. With just a few clicks, Sociables can make the recognition moment an experience your employees will never forget.

How it works:

Manager/Coworker Experience

- Managers receive an email indicating their employee is celebrating an upcoming service anniversary, birthday or retirement event, with a link to the Sociables site.

- The manager selects the type of Sociable (eCard, photo or video) and types in a personalized message that will post to the recipient's recognition wall.

- Next, managers invite coworkers to share in the celebration. Selected employees will receive an invitation to the event where they can select more employees to join in.

- All Sociable messages are held in cue on the recipient's recognition wall until the event day arrives!

Recipient Experience

- Recipient receives an email message on the day of the event containing a link to their personal recognition wall to view all the Sociables they received.

- When they click the recognition tiles on their wall, it reveals the personalized messages, photos, and videos from across the organization.

- The cool thing? We created a THANK YOU feature that enables the recipient to thank each of their coworkers for sending a Sociable to them!

Benefits:

- Developed as a standalone recognition module, not requiring system integration and lengthy set-up times.

- Can be configured to reflect corporate branding colors, logo and includes a custom President's eCard.

- Users can easily upload photos or videos to further personalize the recognition experience.

- eCards can be viewed onscreen in slideshow format or be downloaded and printed for display, creating a lasting keepsake.

- Report capabilities are available to track program usage and invites across the organization.

Impact your company culture and drive engagement by sharing the recognition moment with the team, the department and the entire organization.
